

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS 2011

CJCS accepts original contributions for the next sections and accomplishing following guidelines:

ARTICLES

Articles should be between 6,000–8,000 words. They must be based on original research or offer well grounded theoretical contributions, they must be written in a clear and concise style in English and they must not be under consideration by any other publication. In the first instance the author(s) must send one anonymous copy of the article containing an abstract (max. 150 words) and keywords (max. 6) and attach a separate sheet with the title of the article, name of the author(s), institutional affiliation, abstract, keywords, references of the article, biographical note and institutional address and e-mail. Authors must avoid any information within the article which make it possible to infer their identity (acknowledgements must be avoided at this stage and references to their own work must be done in the third person). Articles are submitted to a blind peer reviewing process. Manuscripts are evaluated on the basis of their originality, the soundness of their theory and methodology, the coherence of their analysis and their ability to communicate to readers (including non-specialist readers).

VIEWPOINT

This section will include research notes, short commentaries, reflections on current affairs, cultural and media events, short interviews, etc. Experts, leading scholars, experienced professionals and senior researchers are invited to submit their proposals which will be selected also in accordance with academic criteria and depending on the availability of space. In this section CJCS will, where appropriate, also accept contributions in Catalan, Spanish or French. Contributions for this section should not exceed 3000 words in length. The editors review Viewpoint proposals.

GATEWAY

The Editors of CJCS will select an article from those previously published by academic journals for publication in this section. Gateway will give international coverage to the best articles written and published originally in Catalan or Spanish. The Editors will select the work using the abovementioned criteria and the authors must seek permission for translation and publication in CJCS. We encourage researchers to suggest articles for this section along with an argument for their suitability.

REVIEW

CJCS also publishes short book reviews, in English and commissioned by the Editors, about leading editorial projects in Catalan/Spanish or English in keeping with the aims and scope of the journal. Contributions for this section should not exceed 650 words in length.

For all sections: Submissions and proposals must be sent electronically to catalan.journal@urv.cat

STYLE GUIDELINES

Illustrations

We welcome images illustrating an article. All images need a resolution of at least 300 dpi. All images should be supplied independently of the article, not embedded into the text itself. The files should be clearly labelled and an indication given as to where they should be placed in the text. Reproduction will normally be in black-and-white. Images sent in as e-mail attachments should accordingly be in greyscale.

The image should always be accompanied by a suitable caption (the omission of a caption is only acceptable if you feel that the impact of the image would be reduced by the provision of written context). The following is the agreed style for captions: Figure 1: Caption here. Please note the colon after the number and the terminating full point, even if the caption is not a full sentence. Copyright clearance should be indicated by the contributor and is always the responsibility of the contributor.

LANGUAGE

The journal follows standard British English. Use 'ize' endings instead of 'ise'.

METADATA

A metadata file must accompany all contributions. Authors must check that each of the following have been supplied correctly:

- Article Title.
- Author Name.
- Author addresses – the submitted material should include details of the full postal and e-mail addresses of the contributor for correspondence purposes.
- Author Biography – authors should include a short biography of around 100 words, specifying the institution with which they are affiliated.
- In the metadata file, authors must include and accept the following declaration:
Declaration: The Author guarantees that the Contribution is original, has not been published previously, and is not under consideration for publication elsewhere.
- Abstract of 150 words; this will go on to the Intellect website.
- Keywords – six words, or two-word phrases. There is a serious reduction in an article's ability to be searched for if the keywords are missing.

NOTES

Notes may be used for comments and additional information only. In general, if something is worth saying, it is worth saying in the text itself. A note will divert the reader's attention away from your argument. If you think a note is necessary, make it as brief and to the point as possible. Use Word's note-making facility, and ensure that your notes are endnotes, not footnotes. Place note calls outside the punctuation, so after the comma or the full stop. The note call must be in superscripted Arabic (1, 2, 3).

OPINION

The views expressed in CJCS are those of the authors, and do not necessarily coincide with those of the Editors or the Editorial Advisory Boards.

PERMISSIONS/COPYRIGHT/LIABILITY

Copyright clearance should be indicated by the contributor and is always the responsibility of the contributor. Unless a specific agreement has been made, accepted articles become the copyright of the journal. Once an article has been accepted for publication the copyright clearance form should be completed and sent to the Editors. An electronic template of the form is available from the journal office, address above.

PRESENTATION/HOUSE STYLE

All articles should be written in Word. The font should be Times New Roman, 12 point. The title of your article should be in bold at the beginning of the file, but not enclosed in quote marks. Bold is also used for headings and subheadings (which should also be in Times New Roman, 12 point) in the article. Italics may be used (sparingly) to indicate key concepts.

Any matters concerning the format and presentation of articles not covered by the above notes should be addressed to the Editor at catalan.journal@urv.cat

QUOTATIONS

Intellect's style for quotations embedded into a paragraph is single quote marks, with double quote marks for a second quotation contained within the first. All long quotations (i.e. over 40 words long) should be 'displayed' – i.e. set into a separate indented paragraph with an additional one-line space above and below, and without quote marks at the beginning or end. Please note that for quotations within the text, the punctuation should follow the bracketed reference. For a displayed quotation the bracketed reference appears after the full stop.

All omissions in a quotation are indicated thus: [...] Note that there are no spaces between the suspension points.

When italics are used for emphasis within quotations, please ensure that you indicate whether the emphasis is from the original text or whether you are adding it to make a point.

REFEREES

CJCS is a refereed journal. Strict anonymity is accorded to both authors and referees.

REFERENCES

All references in the text should be like the next example: (Bordwell 1989: 9). When the author is included in the text, then Bordwell (1989: 9). The default term used for this list is 'References'. Please do not group films together under separate a 'Films cited' heading. Instead, incorporate all films into the main body of references and list them alphabetically by director. The same rule applies to television programmes/music/new media: identify the director/composer and list alphabetically alongside books, journals and papers.

Please note in particular:

- 'Anon.' for items for which you do not have an author (because all items must be referenced with an author within the text)
- A blank line is entered between references
- Year date of publication in brackets
- Commas, not full stops, between parts of each reference
- Absence of 'in' after the title of a chapter if the reference relates to an article in a journal or newspaper.
- Name of translator of a book within brackets after title and preceded by 'trans.', not 'transl.' or 'translated by'.
- Absence of 'no.' for the journal number, a colon between journal volume and number.
- 'pp.' before page extents.

The following samples indicate conventions for the most common types of reference:

BOOK

Hobsbawm, E. J. (1990), Nations and nationalism since 1780. Programme, myth, reality. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

ARTICLE IN A JOURNAL

Balfour, S. (2008), 'The concept of historical revisionism: Spain since the 1930s', International Journal of Iberian Studies, 21: 3, pp. 179–186.

ARTICLE IN A BOOK

Mikos, L. (2009), 'How the pumpkins conquered Germany. Halloween, media and reflexive modernization in Germany', in M. Foley and H. O'Donnell (eds), Treat or trick? Halloween in a globalising world. Cambridge: Cambridge Scholars Publishing, pp. 113–130.

CONFERENCE PAPER

Farré, J. and Gonzalo, J. (2008), 'A complete communicative turn on risk research', First International Sociological Association Forum, Barcelona, Spain, 5–8 September.

FILMS

Denis, C. (1987), Chocolat, Paris: Les Films du Paradoxe.

NEWSPAPER ARTICLE

Cardús, S. (2008), 'Reinicialitzar la política', Avui. 22 February 2008.

DOCTORAL THESIS

Domingo, D. (2005), 'Inventing online journalism. Development of the Internet as a news medium in four Catalan online newsrooms', Ph.D. thesis, Bellaterra: Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona.

UNPUBLISHED WORKS

Castelló, E. (in press), 'Dramatizing proximity. Cultural and social discourses in soap operas from production to reception', European Journal of Cultural Studies. (Accepted for publication 12 May 2009).

PERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS

Personal communications are what the informant said directly to the author, e.g. 'Pam loved the drums (personal communication)'. This needs no citation in the references list. Equally the use of personal communications need not refer back to a named informant. However, a more formal research interview can be cited in the text (Jamieson 12 August 2004 interview), and in the references list.

WEBSITE REFERENCES

Website references are similar to other references.

There is no need to decipher any place of publication or a specific publisher, but the reference must have an author, and the author must be referenced Harvard-style within the text. Unlike paper references, however, web pages can change, so there needs to be a date of access as well as the full web reference. In the list of references at the end of your article, the item should read something like this:

Bondebjerg, K. (2005), 'Web Communication and the Public Sphere in a European Perspective', <http://www.media.ku.dk>. Accessed 15 February 2005.
