

Hospitality & Society

Call for contributions: Volume 2 Issue 2

Hospitality & Society is an international multidisciplinary social sciences journal focusing upon academic perspectives on hospitality, and addresses all aspects of hospitality and its connections with wider social and cultural processes and structures.

Aims & Scope

- To consider issues associated with hospitality leading to its advancement and understanding, including developing new approaches to the study of hospitality.
- To serve as a multidisciplinary forum encouraging interdisciplinarity with contributors coming from a wide variety of disciplinary bases.
- To be international in scope and inclusive in its coverage addressing hospitality from the macro to the micro level.

Article Submissions

Articles should be 5-8000 words long but can be longer in exceptional cases. The journal will publish empirical and conceptual research articles, state-of-the-art reviews, discussion papers, shorter research notes, viewpoints, letters to the editor, book reviews, and reports on conferences. Conference proceedings and other reports should be up to 1,000 words long and include both a description and a critical analysis. The journal welcomes reviewers at all stages of their careers to write single book reviews (c.800 words in length) and multiple book reviews of up to three books (c.2500 words in length).
