

Notes for Contributors 2010

The guidance on this page is by no means comprehensive and must be read in conjunction with the Intellect Style Guide, which can be found on the 'Resources for Journal Editors and Contributors' page of Intellect's website (www.intellectbooks.com).

Illustrations

We welcome images illustrating an article. All images need a resolution of at least 300 dpi. All images should be supplied independently of the article, not embedded into the text itself. The files should be clearly labelled and an indication given as to where they should be placed in the text. The image should always be accompanied by a suitable caption and the following is the agreed style for captions: Figure 1: Caption here. Copyright clearance should be indicated by the contributor and is always the responsibility of the contributor.

Language

The journal follows standard British English. Please use 'ize' endings instead of 'ise'.

Length of articles

Articles should be 4000–8000 words long and must not exceed 8000 words (including notes and references, but excluding the author biography, keywords or abstract).

Metadata

Contributors must check that each of the following have been supplied correctly:

- Article Title
- Author's Name
- Author's postal and email address (the postal address does not have to be included in the final article, but is needed for correspondence purposes)
- Author's Biography of 50–100 words

- Abstract of 200–300 words (this will appear on Intellect's website)
- Keywords (six to eight, listed one per line, in lower case where possible)

Notes

Notes may be used for comments and additional information only. In general, if something is worth saying, it is worth saying in the text itself. A note will divert the reader's attention away from your argument. If you think a note is necessary, make it as brief and to the point as possible. Use Microsoft Word's note-making facility and ensure that your notes are endnotes, not footnotes. Place note calls outside the punctuation, i.e. after the comma or the full stop. The note call must be in superscripted Arabic (1, 2, 3).

Opinion

The views expressed in this journal are those of the authors and do not necessarily coincide with those of the Editors or the Editorial or Advisory Boards.

Permissions/Copyright/Liability

Copyright clearance is the responsibility of the contributor and should be indicated by the contributor. The copyright clearance form should be completed and sent to the Editors to accompany every submission. Unless a specific agreement has been made, accepted articles become the copyright of the journal.

Presentation/House Style

All articles should be written in Word. The font should be Times New Roman, 12 point. The title of your article should be in bold at the beginning of the file, but not enclosed in quote marks. Bold is also used for headings and subheadings (which should also be in Times New Roman, 12 point) in the article. Italics may be used (sparingly) to indicate key concepts.

Any matters concerning the format and presentation of articles not covered by the above notes should be addressed to the Editor.

Quotations

Intellect's style for quotations embedded into a paragraph is single quote marks, with double quote marks used for a second quotation contained within the first. All long quotations (over 40 words) should be 'displayed' – i.e. set into a separate indented paragraph with an additional one-line space above and below, and without quote marks at the beginning or end. Please note that for quotations within the text, the punctuation should follow the bracketed reference. For a displayed quotation the bracketed reference appears after the full stop. All omissions in a quotation are indicated thus: [...] Note that there are no spaces between the suspension points. When italics are used for emphasis within quotations, please ensure that you indicate whether the emphasis is from the original text or whether it is your own.

Referees

This is a peer-reviewed journal. Strict anonymity is accorded to both authors and referees.

References

All references in the text should be according to the Harvard system, e.g. (Bordwell 1989: 9). Please do not group films together under a separate Filmography heading. Instead, incorporate all films into the main body of references and list them alphabetically by director. The same rule applies to television programmes/music/new media: identify the director/composer and list alphabetically with books, journals and papers.

When referencing comics, please use the Harvard system as above, using the lead creator's name only in the body of the text. Please include the names of the writer and artist (at the very least) in the bibliographic entry, up to a maximum of four contributors.

Single issue comics should be referenced as follows: Delano, J., Case, R., Vozzo, D. and Klein, T. (1995), 'First Tremor', Ghostdancing #1, New York: DC Comics. Reference in text: (Delano 1995: 10).

One-shot comics should be referenced as follows: Moore, A., Bolland, B., Higgins, J. and Starkings, S. 1988), The Killing Joke, London: Titan Books. Reference in text: (Moore 1988: 10).

Trade paperbacks and collected editions should be referenced as follows:

Ennis, G., Dillon, S., Hollingsworth, M., and Robins, C. (1996), Preacher: Gone to Texas, 1–7, New York: DC Comics. Reference in text: (Ennis 1996: 10).

Please note in particular:

- 'Anon.' for items for which you do not have an author (because all items must be referenced with an author within the text)
- A blank line is entered between references
- Year date of publication in brackets
- Commas, not full stops, between parts of each reference
- Absence of 'in' after the title of a chapter if the reference relates to an article in a journal or newspaper
- Name of translator of a book within brackets after title and preceded by 'trans.', not 'transl.' or 'translated by'
- Absence of 'no.' for the journal number, a colon between journal volume and number
- 'pp.' before page extents

The following samples indicate conventions for the most common types of reference:

Anon (1931), Les films de la semaine, Tribune de Genève, 28 January.

- Brown, J. (2005), 'Evaluating surveys of transparent governance', in UNDESA (United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs), 6th Global Forum on Reinventing Government: Towards Participatory and Transparent Governance, Seoul, Republic of Korea, 24–27 May, United Nations: New York.

- Woolley, E. and Muncey, T. (in press), 'Demons or diamonds: a study to ascertain the range of attitudes present in health professionals to children with conduct disorder', Journal of Adolescent Psychiatric Nursing. (Accepted for publication December 2002).

Personal communications

Personal communications are what the informant said directly to the author, e.g. 'Pam loved the drums (personal communication)'. This needs no citation in the references list. Equally the use of personal communications need not refer back to a named informant. However, a more formal research interview can be cited in the text (Jamieson 12 August 2004 interview) and in the references list.

Website references

Website references are similar to other references. There is no need to decipher any place of publication or a specific publisher, but the reference must have an author, and the author must be referenced Harvard-style within the text. Unlike paper references, however, web pages can change, so there needs to be a date of access as well as the full web reference. In the list of references at the end of your article, the item should read something like this:

- Bondebjerg, K. (2005), 'Web Communication and the Public Sphere in a European Perspective', <http://www.media.ku.dk>. Accessed 15 February 2005.

Submission Procedures

Articles submitted to this journal should be original and not under consideration by any other publication. Contributions should be submitted electronically as an email attachment. Please contact the journal's editors for further details.
